

Always on the Safe Side
when it Comes to Quality

Dr. Roland Scherb

Dear readers,

Quality management helps you identify and develop your resources. This applies, in particular, for conquering complex tasks with limited means. Above all, smaller and mid-sized companies are unlocking interesting potentials for further development with a certified quality management system:

- Greater efficacy through clear and measurable objectives
- More efficiency through the precise control of workflows
- Smooth process flows through eliminating interface conflicts
- Sustainable cost optimization through more efficient process flows
- Evidence for your customers through the security of an effective and certified quality management system

We will be there with you every step of the way in developing optimum solutions - systematically and pragmatically.

Your success is all that matters to us!

PeRoBa Unternehmensberatung GmbH offers more than quality management:

- Consulting for founding and establishing a new business
- Acquisition of subsidiaries
- Intercultural management
- Management of restructurings
- Seminars
- Change management
- Succession and takeover consulting
- Individual coaching sessions

We would be happy to advise you at no obligation. Please do not hesitate to contact us.

Introduction: Fully Adapted to your Business

Establishing a quality management system is easier than you think! We will be there with you every step of the way in carefully coordinating each measure with you. This also applies to the involvement of your managers and employees early in the process. This way, we create the basis for not only adopting quality standards, but also for ensuring that they are practiced by everyone.

Those who strive for efficacy and efficiency should not be writing thick manuals, but rather they should concentrate on the important things. As such, you increase the acceptance among your employees and facilitate practical use. That is why we determine the required scope together with you and work on precisely the processes and documents that you really need.

Certification: How Trust is Created

A DIN EN ISO 9001:2015 certification or VDA documents your quality management according to modern standards. This creates trust, in particular for quality-oriented customers, public-sector contracting authorities and international competition. In addition, this enables you to lay the foundation for various industry-specific certifications.

You can depend on the PeRoBa team to accompany you through the entire certification process:

- As an Approved Quality Management Auditor of TÜV Süd GmbH for quality management according to DIN EN ISO 9001 since 1999
- As a certified Euro Assessor according to the excellence model (TQM) of EFQM since 2000
- As a certified process auditor according to VDA 6.3 and 1st and 2nd party auditor for IATF 16949
- As an accredited trainer of the TÜV Süd Akademie as well as a lecturer at various universities
- With years of experience in implementing and shaping processes according to the foundations of Total Quality Management (TQM), including Key Performance Indicators (KPIs)

Further Development: Fit for the future

An effective quality management system can create a lasting effect. However, it needs to be constantly maintained. We are happy to assist you beyond the certification. The advantage for you: Once your quality management system is adopted, it keeps pace with your growing requirements. Together, we will consistently adapt it to your needs.

With VDA or DIN EN ISO 9001:2015 certification, you are documenting not only your quality management according to modern standards, you are also creating a basis for a further development and a continuous improvement process (CIP). The ISO revision 9001:2015 incorporates, in particular, the requirements of the service sector and external stakeholders as well as the risk assessment of your processes.
